

Markus Peters

January 2023

Employment

Institute for International Economic Studies (IIES) PhD Candidate Research interests: Macroeconomics, household finance, firm price-setting behavior	Stockholm, Sweden Aug 2016–Present
Kunskapsverket Analyst	Stockholm, Sweden May 2022–Dec 2022
Research Division, Sveriges Riksbank PhD Internship at the Swedish central bank	Stockholm, Sweden Oct 2018–Dec 2018
Price Statistics Division, Statistics Sweden Internship	Stockholm, Sweden Jun 2016–Aug 2016
Department of Economics, Stockholm University Teaching Assistant Elementary courses in microeconomics and macroeconomics	Stockholm, Sweden Aug 2014–Jun 2016

Education

IIES, Stockholm University PhD in Economics Advisors: Per Krusell and Roine Vestman Transferred from the Department of Economics at Stockholm University in Aug 2018	Stockholm, Sweden Sep 2016–Present
Stockholm University Two-year MSc program in Econometrics Transferred to the PhD program after one year	Stockholm, Sweden Aug 2015–Jun 2016
Stockholm University BSc program in Economics, Mathematics, and Statistics Major in economics	Stockholm, Sweden Aug 2012–Jun 2015
Lund University Courses in Economic History, Business Administration, and Economics	Lund, Sweden Aug 2010–Jan 2012

Honors and scholarships

Skandia Long-term Savings Research Grant Thulestiftelsen, Amphionstiftelsen and Skandiastiftelsen 1,556,250 SEK (\approx 171, 200 USD) joint with Carolina Lindholm and Maria Sandström	2020
Hedeliusstipendiet Jan Wallanders and Tom Hedelius stiftelse	2017

639,000 SEK (\approx 70,290 USD) to visit the Department of Economics at New York University for 9 months (not claimed)

Papers

How Individual Savings Respond to Pension Reform: Implications for Models of Savings Behavior
with Carolina Lindholm and Maria Sandström

Micro PPI-Based Real Output Forensics
with Timo Boppart, Mikael Carlsson, and Markus Kondziella

The Impact of Pension Reform on Household Income and Savings:
A Quantitative Analysis of the Swedish Case
with Carolina Lindholm and Maria Sandström

Work in progress

Structural Change in Production Networks

Other writings

Hur påverkar oväntat låg inflation hushållens skulder och konsumtion?
Blog post on Ekonomistas, February 2015

Teaching during PhD

Department of Economics, University of Gothenburg Apr 2020–May 2020,
Macroeconomics I (PhD course) Apr 2019–May 2019
Teaching Assistant to John Hassler and Per Krusell

Department of Economics, Stockholm University Apr 2018–May 2018
Macroeconomics II (PhD course)
Teaching Assistant to John Hassler and Sergio de Ferra

Department of Economics, Stockholm University Jan 2017–Mar 2017
Macroeconomics (Master's course)
Teaching Assistant to Anna Seim

Extracurricular activities

General Graduate Student Council Sep 2017–Aug 2018
Vice President

Student Association of Macroeconomic Analysis Jul 2015–Jun 2016
Founder and President

Stockholm Banco Mar 2013–Jul 2014
Founder, President, and Editor-in-chief

Board membership

NordiCare Ortopedi & Rehab AB Viken, Sweden
Member of the board Jun 2015–Present
NordiCare is a Nordic industry-leader in medical technology products, including compression garments for plastics and surgery, undergarments for breast prostheses, stoma belts, etc.

SkillsProgramming

Matlab, Python, and R

Languages

Swedish (native), English (fluent), and French (DELF B2 diploma)

Contact

markus.peters@iies.su.se by e-mail

@bgmpeters on Twitter

Markus Peters on LinkedIn

markuspeters.com